

How do the plants in Paradise Pastures change?

Is all soil the same?

Are the types and numbers of invertebrates different throughout the year?

Do the plants grow more quickly in some parts of Paradise Pasture than others?

What is soil?

What kinds of flowers / plants do pollinators like the best?

How many different types of plant are there in Paradise Pastures?

What conditions are best for plants?

How many petals do flowers have?

Are the plants in the middle of the field different to those at the edges / by paths / by hedges / by buildings?

What environment do invertebrates (e.g. woodlice) prefer?

Do plants have an immune system?

Where does Ribwort
Plantain grow?

Does Ivy kill the tree?

Inside the dandelion
there was a kind of milky looking blood.
What is it?

What happens to dead leaves?

What happens to soil
when it rains?

Why weren't there more invertebrates?

How many different invertebrates are there?

Where do I find most daises?

How many different types of grass are there at school?

Are the plants different in places that get trampled on a lot?

How are the plants in the shady places different?

At certain times of year I get mushrooms in my garden. When is this and why?

Why is the sticky plant sticky?

Do insects eat wood?

Do invertebrates avoid sunlight?

Why is green the colour of plants?

What habitats do bugs like?

Can nature communicate?

Can plants live as long as animals?

How many meals do insects eat?

Do stinging nettles sting insects?

What is the biggest insect?

What lives longest—flowers, leaves or grass?

Do different plants and animals like different places?

Why do nettles sting?

It looks like there are no daises growing in the hedge. Is that right?

Why do we find lots of insects in some places and not others?

How many petals do flowers have?

How does a seed change as it germinates?

Does moss only grow in the shade?

Do daisies die when they get walked on?

What flowers do butterflies like?

